

Advisory NEWSLETTER

• USA • UAE • Jordan

Business Trainers & Financial Consultants Global Practices with Local Context

INTRODUCTION

About Us: Advisory adapts global models and practices and ideas to fit the local circumstances of governments and businesses. Also, Advisory provides its clients with a unique financial feedback system which qualifies senior management to take optimal decisions and monitor both budget, historical financial statements and tax archive files in one click.

Newsletter

Advisory plans to commence with a new project with the Jordan Securities Commission aiming to develop the disclosure financial system and to provide brokerage firms with the technical support in ways that shall facilitate their operational processes as well as improving their performance in the market. It shall assist brokerage firms in overcoming the existed challenges they are facing to transform the negative perceptions of the market to an efficient and trustworthy platform of accurate information to investors and a solid base of a stable financial environment.

Announcement: The Head Office of Advisory Amman has moved from Al Waibdeh to Al Sweifeyeh. The training center is still located at the 7th circle and Dubai office remains at its current location/ Business Bay

Capacity Building Training

August: Due to the increased requests from several senior management in the corporate and the financial world in the country, as well as the market need, Advisory is collaborating with Moodys Corporation to launch a one of its kind: Certified Credit Officer Training. The training will target senior employees of banks.

Services And Standards

July: The board members of Advisory here in Amman and Advisory Dubai announced that starting from this month, August 2014, all provided services will be equally standardized. A detailed work manual was also unified for the use of both companies.

Advisory's Latest Product

June: Successfully, Advisory just finished the development of one of its latest product. The software was designed to manage companies' contracts. A number of well-established and huge companies were able to test the product with their contracts in a very accurate and transparent ways. The software is expected to be released during the first quarter of 2015.

Towards A Better Performance: Advisory's Apps

February: Advisory released to its clients the new system that measures companies' performance efficiency. This system provides Advisory's clients the capacity to follow up on all their financial matters as well as the related possible risks through a professional secured web based application.

